Philippe Kimura-Thollander

Education

2012–2016 (Expected) — B.S. in Computer Science, SUNY Stony Brook University.
C.S. Honors Program. Minor in History. 3.83/4.00 GPA.
Studied abroad at University of Seoul, Korea (Fall 2013) and EFREI, France (Summer 2013)

Experience

Vocational

2011–Present — Programming Teacher, Summertech Computer Camps, Purchase, NY.
- Taught children ages 8 to 16 basic Java and Python in order to foster youth interest in code.
- Student projects ranged from simple input and output to full fledged games.
- Won "Staff of the Week" as voted upon by peers twice.

2012 — IT Intern, Westchester County Government, White Plains, NY.
- Worked as an intern at the country government setting up a tourism website in Joomla and CSS.
- Cleaned up intranet files using Microsoft Windows Server 2008.

Miscellaneous

2012–Present — Google's 24 Hours of Good, Google, NYC.
- Participated in two Hackathons at Google's NYC headquarters
- The first dedicated to creating an Android app for GreenMap System an environmental company
- The second an online game about web safety and the importance of 2-Step Authentication

Awards

2012 — SUNY Stony Brook University Scholar
2012–Present — Dean's List

Computer Skills

Programming — Java, HTML/CSS, Python, C, Bootstrap, JavaScript/JQuery, C++
Tools — Eclipse, Git, Blender, Photoshop/GIMP, Sublime, LaTeX
OS — Android Development, OSX, Windows, Windows Server 2008

Extracurriculars

Clubs — Japanese Student Organization (President), RecycleIT (Secretary), Stony Brook Computing Society (Inter-Club Affairs), Stony Brook Game Developers (Treasurer)
Languages — Japanese (Fluent), Korean (Basic)
Writing — Maintain a blog for personal reviews of games, shows, books.
Independent Study — Taken Coursera courses regarding Gamification, Android App Development, Korean Language. Volunteer as a Japanese to English translator.

(914) 874 6961 • philippekimurathollander@gmail.com • philkt.me